This is the forest primeval. The murmering pines and the hemlocks,
Bearded with moss, and in garments green, indistinct in the twilight,
Stand like Druids of old, with voices sad and prophetic,
Stand like harpers hoar, with beards that rest on their bosoms.

Loud from its rocky caverns, the deep-voiced neighboring ocean

Speaks, and in accents disconsolate answers the wail of the forest.

This is the forest primeval; but where are the hearts that beneath it

Leaped like the roe, when he hears in the woodland the voice of the huntsman?

Where is the thatch-roofed village, the home of Acadian farmers--
Men whose lives glided on like rivers that water the woodlands,

Darkened by shadows of earth, but reflecting an image of heaven?

Waste are those pleasant farms, and the farmers forever departed!

Scattered like dust and leaves, when the mighty blasts of October

Seize them, and whirl them aloft, and sprinkle them far o'er the ocean.

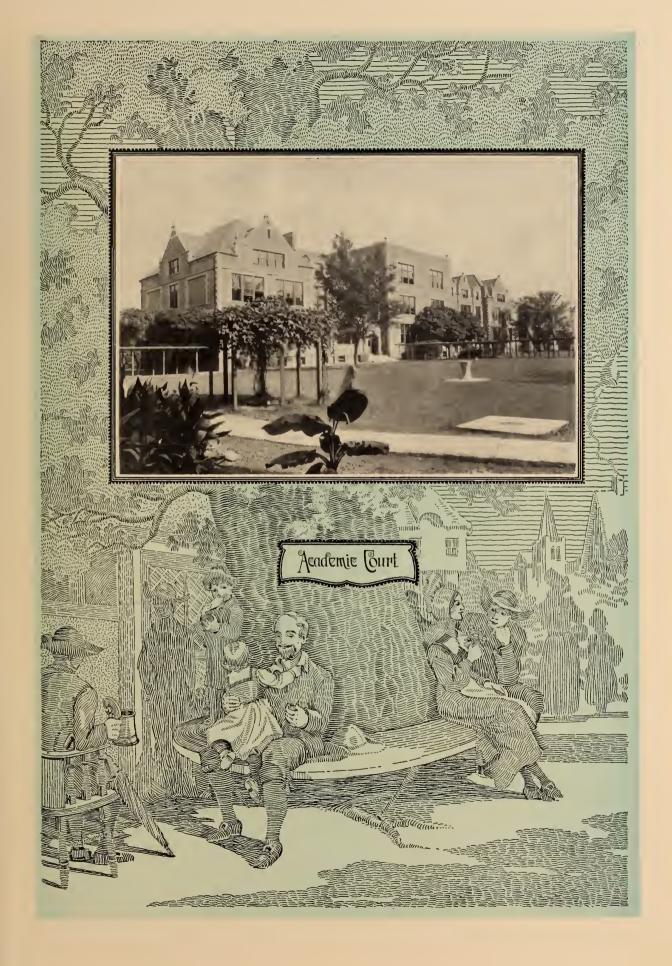

Naught but tradition remains of the beautiful village of Grand-Pre.

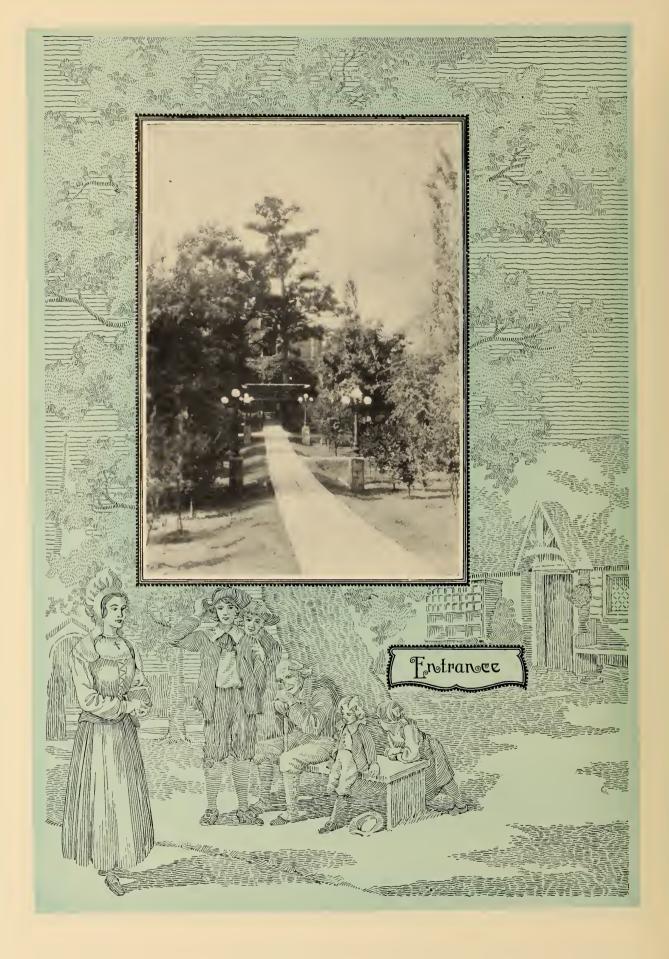

Ye who believe in affection that hopes, and endures, and is patient,

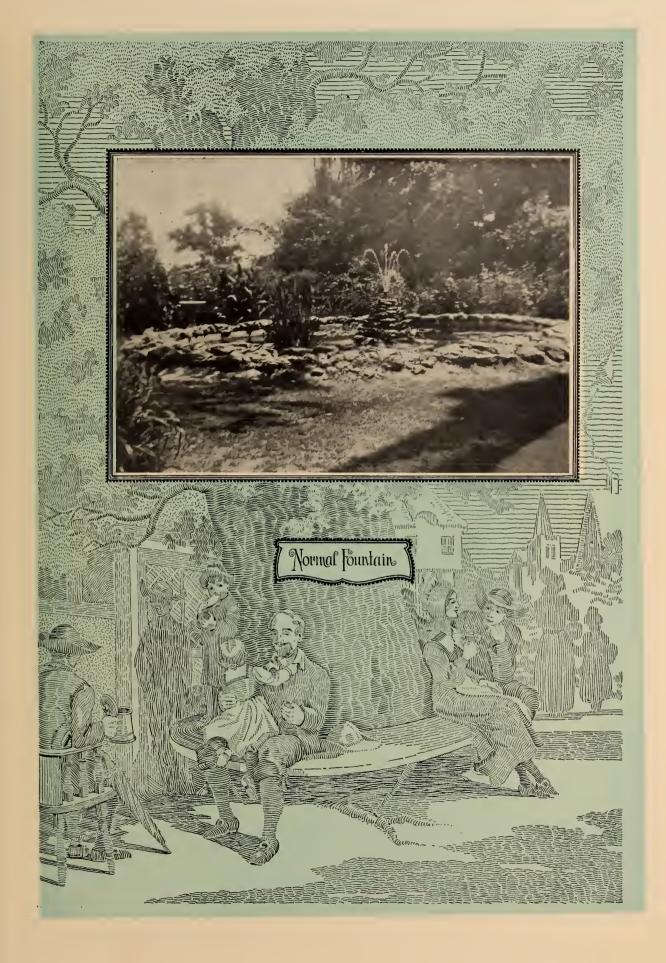

Ye who believe in the beauty and strength of woman's devotion,

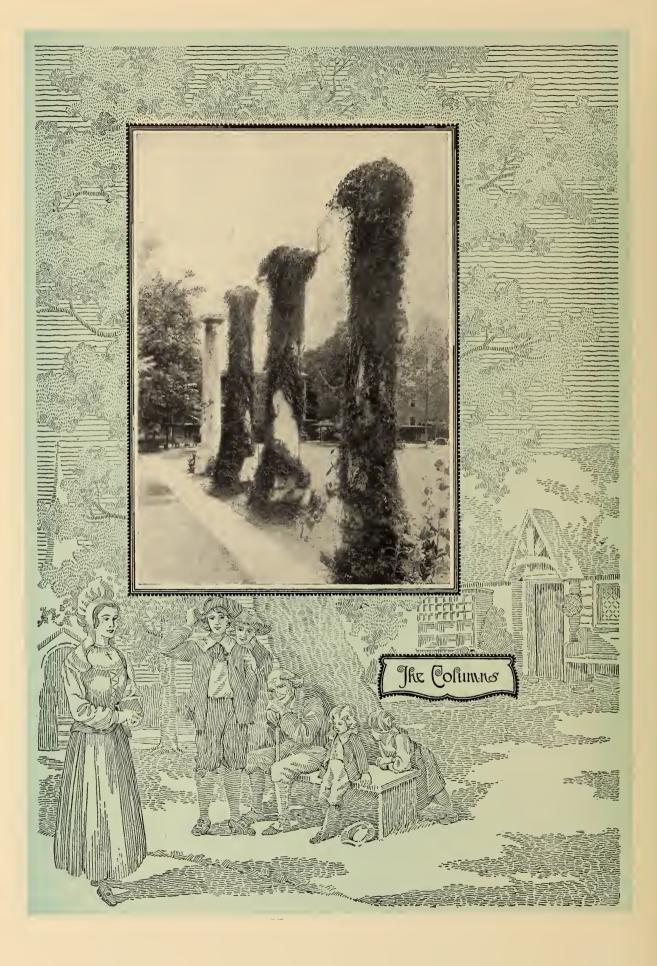

List to the mournful tradition, still sung by the pines of the forest;

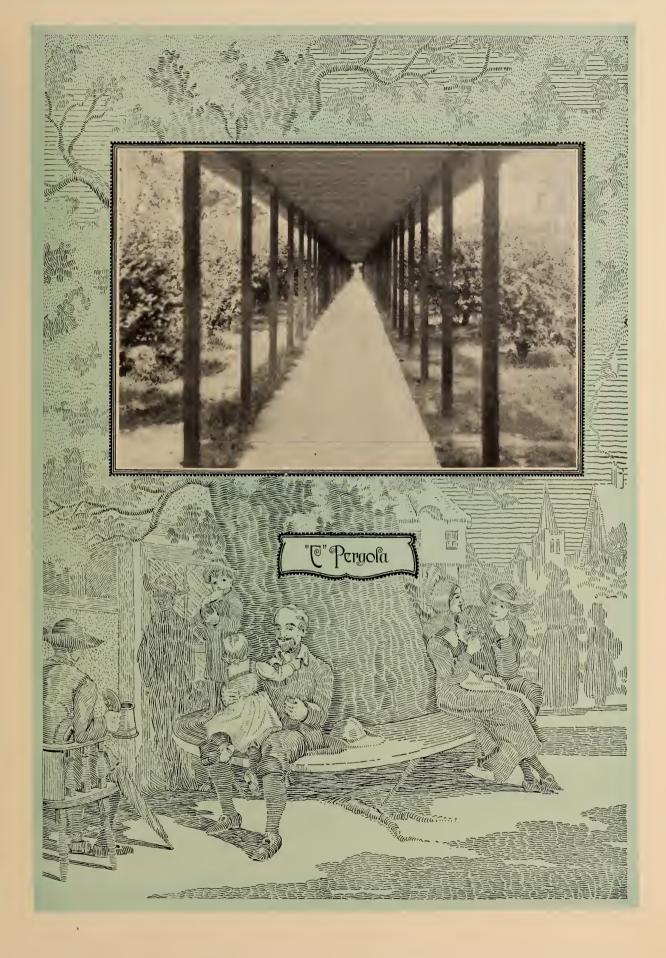

List to a Tale of Love in Acadia, home of the happy.

To Our Alma Mater, Loyalty

By ISABEL WILLIAMSON (Mrs. S. J. Cumming)

Oh, Alma Mater here today,
We for thy lasting blessings pray,
We know not where our paths may go,
But thou'lt uphold us still we know,
Unchanging thou, 'mid changes vast,
Unswerved from ideals of the past,
Steadfast and true our watchword e'er shall be--To thee, our Alma Mater, Loyalty.

Thy trees their solemn chorus blend.
About thee, flowers their censers bend.
Our voices swell their murmuring strain
Our hearts repeat the old refrain,
Thy purpose high to carry on--Oh, Normal, thou hast honor won.
Steadfast and true our watchword e'er shall be--To thee, our Alma Mater, Loyalty.

In after years, when far away,
Thy presence strong will near us stay;
And as the echo of our song
Will, with new courage, lead us on,
And to our eager vision then
Each subtle memory meaning lend,
Steadfast and true our watchword e'er shall be--To thee, our Alma Mater, Loyalty.

THE Young Men's Christian Association of the Louisiana State Normal College is an active factor in the lives of the students. The members of the organization devote their energy to the improvement of the students mentally, morally and spiritually upon the athletic fields, in the class room, on the campus, and everywhere.

The "Y" plans to continue this work that it is now doing and to endeavor to make each year more successful than the last.

THE Young Women's Christian Association was organized at the Louisiana State Normal College in 1911 and has ever since been outstanding in meeting a real need in the lives of the young women on the campus.

The purpose of the Association is to deepen the thinking of the students, broaden their sympathies and widen the reach of their love. It endeavors to promote fellowship among the young women, to bring them into closer relationship with their churches, to encourage service for others; but most of all, it challenges them to take Christ seriously, to study conditions in the world today, and to apply intelligently the principles of Christ's teachings to actual conditions in life.

In order that the Y.W.C.A. may be more closely affiliated with the National "Y" and thus know and study all world and national problems, it sends delegates each year to a summer conference. These delegates return in the fall with renewed enthusiasm to carry on the work of the coming year. The Association was represented last summer at Monte Ne by Constance McReynolds, Ethlyn Bowers, Frances Griffin, Lola Hoag, Mary Lee Beckett, Mattie Sue Nicholson, Florence Greer, Christine Thompson and Myra Whitman.

THE Catholic students of the Louisiana State Normal College in the fall of 1925 installed a chapter of the Newman Club, a national organization of Catholic men and women in non-sectarian schools, having for its purpose the uplifting of religious life of the students and the creating and the fostering of a feeling of fellowship among them. The Newman Club replaces a similar organization known as the Apostleship of Prayer, organized in 1906, which exerted a wide influence for good among those enrolled in the ranks during the nineteen years of its existence. The leaders of the group, however, decided to become associated with the national Catholic organization on account of its broader interests and inter-collegiate affiliations.

Seekers After Knowledge Literary Society

THE Seekers After Knowledge Literary Society is the oldest organization of its kind on the campus. It was organized by students in order to give an opportunity to prepare programs, to become familiar with the art of speaking before an audience, to learn the general rules of parliamentary law practice, and to acquire the art of dealing with their fellows.

Other societies have since been formed but S.A.K. still holds the position of one of the strongest societies. The members of S.A.K. especially enjoy the contests which are the source of much wholesome rivalry. They have carried off many of the honorable laurels. During the year 1926, the Inter-Society Debate was won by Truett L. Scarborough and A. D. O'Neal, and the Declamation was won by Lola Hoag.

S.A.K. is now looking to the future and planning to make the Yellow and they have won because of their thorough knowledge of parliamentary rules and because of their leadership in speaking and discussion of current questions.

The class this year was composed of the following people:

TRUETT L. SCARBOROUGH, Parliamentarian

Henry Rickey, Secretary

John Young

A. D. O'Neal

Beverly Allday

Una Ruth Earnest

Mary Ann Alleman

S.A.K. is now looking to the future and planning to make the Yellow and White mean much to the lives of all Normal students.

Eclectic Literary Society

THE Eclectic Literary Society is the second oldest society at the Louisiana State Normal College. It was organized during the school session 1891-1892 when it became apparent to the members of the one society, Seekers After Knowledge, that to accomplish the best results in literary activities a new rival society should be formed.

From the beginning the Eclectic Literary Society has lived up to the expectations that the founders had. Slowly and carefully E.L.S. has built her foundations upon a rock and today has become one of the most progressive societies. The members of E.L.S. have won many of the contests that they have entered.

In athletics the society has been outstanding. At the close of the 1927 Inter-Society Basketball Tournament this year, the E.L.S. team gained possession of the S. and H. Kaffie loving cup. For three years the society has been victorious and the cup now remains in the hands of E.L.S.

The history of E.L.S. is an interesting one, a story of rapid progress and development. Ever remaining true to her ideals and aspirations, she has more than served her purpose in the past and realizes that there is yet for her a most wonderful future.

DESTRUCTION OF THE PERSON

Modern Culture Club

THE Modern Culture Club was organized in 1902 in order to meet the demand for more literary societies. Since that time M.C.C. has grown until it now ranks as one of the leading organizations on the campus.

The members of this club believe in the motto "Through Difficulties to the Skies"; and with this in mind they have taken active part in debate, oratory, declamation, quartette, and basketball. Time and again they have carried away honors in these events.

One of the leading factors in the success of M.C.C. may be found in the fact that every contest finds her loyal members upholding the Green and Gold.

M.C.C. has been active in parliamentary law work this year. The class entering the inter-society contest in the fall ran a close second for honors. The following were members of the class:

CECIL MILLER, Parliamentarian
GERTRUDE CHUSTZ
NEIL CALDWELL
C. O. HORTON

UNDER the guidance of Professor A. Z. This was well shown in the planning of their programs and in their active Parliamentary Law Class. This class was composed of the following persons:

THE Contemporary Life Club was founded at Normal December 4, 1913. It was organized by the students who were taking social science courses in order to cultivate the intellectual, moral, and social endowments of the students, to foster and develop patriotism and leadership, and to create a spirit of devotion and loyalty to their Alma Mater.

The activities of this club have become more important each year until now membership has been extended to all the students on the campus.

THE purpose of the Rural Life Club is to develop a more general and keener interest in the problems of rural life. It admits into its membership students of the Department of Rural Education and Agriculture. Studies are made of interesting experiments in and demonstrations of rural education in Louisiana and other states. Investigations and surveys of rural communities are analyzed and discussed, and the social conditions and problems of the country are studied.

HANCHEY

Hayes "Sharp-Eyes" Hanchey proved to be a great player at center. His eye was always on the ball as well as the opponent and he was the leading "point getter" for the team.

REDING

Elbert Reding worked in the center position and was a good relief man to Hanchey. Reding could always be depended on as an able player and will make a good man next year.

CALDWELL

Neil "Red" Caldwell is a great guard according to those who faced him or tried to outguess him on the court. Red was always on hand to take the ball off the back-board and his ability to pass the ball was excellent.

OTHER TYPE AND ADDRESS.

WALKER

Elmo Walker saw a little action in the guard post where he gained experience that will be valuable next year.

MILLER

Captain Cecil "Lightning" Miller, although not quite as good this season as he has been, was the backbone of the team or in other words, the "brains" of the team. He is a fast forward and could always locate his team-mates with the ball.

DICKEY

Duncan "Sam" Dickey is another forward like Sims. Duncan and Elmer were always working together in the game and they were a fast pair. The two are expected to be good next year.

SIMS

Elmer "Dog" Sims did not get into much action as a forward, but when he was sent in to play he did plenty of that. Sims will be a great help to the coach next year.

Earl "Home" Aiken, like Caldwell, played in the guard post. Earl and Red worked wonders on the court together. After a game the opponent would always say that it was those two guards that beat them.

BORDELON

B. J. Bordelon is the other main forward of the unofficial state champion team. Bordelon is a great fighter and was one of the high point men.

Normal College Song

By Ross Maggio

Awake and praise our Alma Mater,
And let our hearts unfold;
Let us sing of brave vic-tries,
Of her traditions old.
Then let us stand and swear allegiance
And raise our banners high,
For Alma Mater ever honor
While from our hearts we cry

Chorus

All hail Alma Mater;
All hail to our college,
The mother of wisdom,
The fountain of light;
And we make our pledges
To ever honor thee.
May God in His goodness
Protect her with His might.

Those Friends of Long Ago By Kearnie Keegan

When you're sittin' in the evenin' As the quiet shadows fall,
An' the birds in the tree tops
Are a-chirpin' their soft call,
An' the wind's a-kind a-sighin'
An' singin' soft and low--That's when you think of friendships,
Of those friends of long ago.

When you're walkin' in the moonlight 'Neath the moonbeams mellow gleam, An' you listen to the drippin' An' the babblin' of the stream, An' you wonder as you're walkin', Jus' wanderin' 'long the sho', If they ever, ever think of you, Those friends of long ago.

When you wake up in the mornin'
As the sun comes up from rest,
An' it starts its daily journey
From East toward the West,
There's a question you'd be asking;
The answer you'd like to know;
Where are those dear ole Normal friends--Those friends of long ago?

Down in Old Louisian'

Don't you know there comes a feelin' As alone here I'm a-sittin', That life is worth the livin', Down in old Louisian'?

Here the people are a smilin'
An' the birds are always singin',
An' the flowers are always bloomin'
Down in old Louisian'.

Why the sun seems always shinin' And love I'm always findin' For there's never any pinin' Down in old Louisian'.

And I'm sure as here I'm sittin'
That God is not forgettin'
That we're thankin' Him for livin'
Down in old Louisian'.

And when the end is comin'
I'll be smilin' and be thankin'
Him for lettin' me be dyin'
Down in old Louisian'.

Still stands the forest primeval; but far away from its shadow,
Side by side, in their nameless graves, the lovers are sleeping,
Under the humble walls of the little Catholic churchyard,
In the heart of the city they lie, unknown and unnoticed.
Daily the tides of life go ebbing and flowing beside them,
Thousands of throbbing hearts, where theirs are at rest forever,
Thousands of aching brains, where theirs no longer are busy,
Thousands of toiling hands, where theirs have ceased from their labors,
Thousands of weary feet, where theirs have completed their journey!

Still stands the forest primeval; but under the shade of its branches

Dwells another race, with other customs and language.

Only along the shore of the mournful and misty Atlantic

Linger a few Acadian peasants, whose fathers from exile

Wandered back to their native land to die in its bosom,

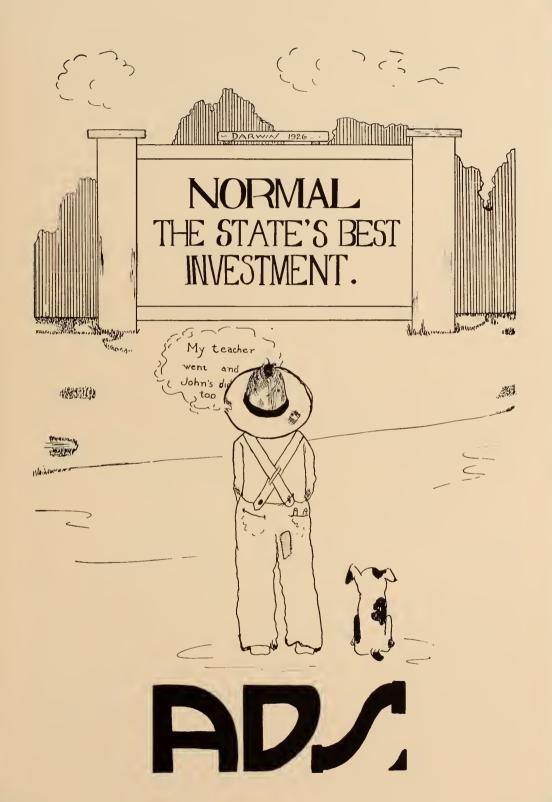

In the fisherman's cot the wheel and the loom are still busy;

Maidens still wear their Norman caps and their kirtles of homespun,

And by the evening fire repeat Evangeline's story,

While from its rocky caverns the deep-voiced neighboring ocean

Speaks and in accents disconsolate answers the wail of the forest.
